JIM FINKS

PRESIDENT & CHIEF EXECUTIVE OFFICER

When Jim Finks was appointed President and Chief Executive Officer of the Chicago National League Ball Club, Inc. last September 21, the Cubs not only acquired an astute businessman, but an individual who has gone to war at various levels of professional sports.

Finks has excelled in sports as a player, coach, general manager and management consultant. Though he has spent the majority of his working life in football—college and professional—Finks eagerly awaits the task of helping to mold the Cubs into pennant contenders in the National League.

"I know this is a great city, filled with truly knowledgeable and exuberant fans," Finks said. "My career has been devoted to trying to bring success to sports and organizations. By joining the Tribune Company and the Cubs it provides me with both an honor and a challenge to bring a champion to Chicago."

In making the announcement last September, Stanton R. Cook, President and CEO of Tribune Company, noted that the former executive vice president and general manager of the Chicago Bears would assume full responsibility for the Cubs organization.

"This appointment completes the organizational structure we had planned two years ago," said Cook, adding that the position of president and CEO had not been utilized in the organization since Tribune Company acquired the Cubs in August of 1981.

Finks had resigned from his position with the Bears about a month before joining the Cubs. He had spent nine years with the Bears, joining them two days before the 1974 season. Prior to that, the Salem, IL native spent 10 years with the Minnesota Vikings.

He joined the Vikings in 1964 as their general manager and directed the club into the Super Bowl five seasons later. In 1968, while still with the Vikings, Finks became a member of the National Football League's Management Council—the equivalent to baseball's Players Relations Committee (PRC). He served on the competition (rules) committee for three years (1971-73). In 1974, after the Vikings second Super Bowl appearance, Finks resigned to go with the Management Council full-time until his appointment as Chicago Bears executive vice president and general manager in September of that year.

In 1968, Finks had also been a member of the first NFL negotiating committee that met with the Player's Association.

Finks was a two-sport professional athlete in his early years. He began 33 years of service in professional football as a quarterback and defensive back with the Pittsburgh Steelers in 1949. The Tulsa University graduate was selected to the Pro Bowl in 1953. In 1949 and 1950, Finks also played baseball in the Cincinnati Reds farm system. In '49 he played Class B ball in Austin, Texas and in 1950 jumped to the Sally League in Columbia, South Carolina to play Class A ball. Among his teammates in the minors were Wally Post and Roy McMillian, both of whom later starred with the Reds.

Finks left the pro playing ranks in 1956 and served as a backfield coach for Terry Brennan at Notre Dame. From 1957 until 1964 he worked for the Calgary Stampeders of the Canadian Football League, first as a scout and later as the club's general manager.

In addition to his work with the club's playing personnel during his tenure with the Chicago Bears, Finks also had a major role in the renovation of Soldier Field in 1982 and Halas Hall on the campus of Lake Forest College, the Bears summer training site.

Finks and his wife, Maxine, have four sons—Jim, David, Dan and Tom. They reside in Winnetka, IL. When away from his busy schedule at Wrigley Field, Finks lists playing tennis as one of his favorite hobbies.

DALLAS GREEN

EXECUTIVE VICE-PRESIDENT AND GENERAL MANAGER

Dallas Green enters his third season as the Cubs Executive Vice-President and General Manager with a vastly different team than the one he inherited in October of 1981.

While the results on the field have improved, Dallas is far from satisfied with his first two Cubs teams. He isn't the type of man who is satisfied with anything but the utmost effort and results that reflect that effort.

Leadership is what Dallas Green is all about. During his 28 years in professional baseball, Dallas has consistently exhibited the quality traits that have earned him the respect of the baseball world.

He has worked his way up the organizational ladder. Prior to coming to Chicago, he worked in the Philadelphia Phillies organization from top to bottom, gaining valuable knowledge and insight at every stop. Ultimately, he managed the 1980 World Series champion Phillies, the only Phillies team to win the World Championship in the 100 years of the organization. In 1983, Dallas was selected by the fans of Philadelphia as the manager of the Phillies Centennial Team.

Actually, Green's baseball career began on the pitching mound. He played 5½ years in the Phillies farm system beginning in 1955, then spent six years (1960-64 and 1967) with the parent team. In between there were short coffee stops with the Washington Senators (1965) and the New York Mets (1966). He retired in 1967 after pitching in eight games with the Phillies. His lifetime major league record was 20-22 despite a fastball that was compared to some of the hardest-throwing pitchers of his era.

After his playing career ended in 1967, Green served in the Phil's farm system as the Reading, PA (Eastern League) player-pitching coach the remainder of that season. In 1968 he managed Huron, SD (Northern League) and the following year piloted Pulaski, VA. In 1970 he became the assistant to Paul Owens, the club's director of minor leagues. From there he moved quickly to the top of that department when Owens was elevated to the director of personnel in June of 1972.

Green held that position until August 31, 1979 when he replaced Danny Ozark as Phillies manager and finished with a 19-11 record the remainder of the season. That "interim" position soon became permanent. . .and very successful. In his first full season at the helm in 1980, Green finished with a 91-71 mark, good enough to win the N.L. Eastern Division. Next it was on to the League Championship Series and victory over Houston. Finally there was the dramatic World Series triumph over the Kansas City Royals in six games. That accomplishment made him only the fourth rookie big league manager to win a World Series, the others being Bucky Harris (1924 Washington Senators), Eddie Dyer (1946 St. Louis Cardinals) and Ralph Houk (1961 New York Yankees).

Green was born August 4, 1934 in Newport, Delaware and attended the University of Delaware, where he received a Bachelor's degree in 1981. He first signed with the Phillies in 1955 after his junior year at Delaware and reported to Reidsville, NC.

In 1983 he was inducted into the Sports Hall of Fame for the state of Delaware.

Dallas married the former Sylvia Taylor in 1958. They have four children—Dana, John, Kim and Douglas. The Greens still own a 30-acre farm in West Grove, PA but maintain a residence in Winnetka, IL.

Dallas hobbies include all sports and listening to country and western music.

WRIGLEY FIELD—HOME OF THE CUBS

Although many improvements have been made to the park in the last two decades, increasing comfort and convenience for the spectators, Wrigley Field has remained virtually untarnished by the pervading force of technology. The only ballpark without artificial lighting, the only park with ivy vines covering the outfield walls, lives on, much the same as it was when it opened in 1914. It is one of the few remaining parks in the major leagues that was designed for the sole purpose of playing baseball.

Wrigley Field was built in 1914 with a capacity of 14,000. It was built to house the Chicago Whales of the newly formed Federal League, a circuit which would last only two years before folding for financial reasons. Chicago's entry at that time was nicknamed the Chiefs and was the property of Charles H. Weeghman, a wealthy restaurant chain owner. Weeghman Park, as it was known, would change its name to Cubs Park, and later Wrigley Field.

The cost of building Weeghman Park was estimated at $250,000 and at one time there were 490 men working on the project. More than 4,000 yards of soil and four acres of bluegrass were brought into the park.

The first National League game wasn't played at Weeghman Park until April 20, 1916 when the Cubs beat Cincinnati, 7-6, in 11 innings. In 1926 the field was officially named Wrigley Field in honor of William Wrigley, Jr., the club's owner. Added renovation in the 1920s and 1930s eventually increased to park's capacity to 37,275.

Wrigley Field is a place which has given us such historic moments as:

- Babe Ruth supposedly pointing to a spot where he then proceeded to hit Charlie Root's next pitch.
- Gabby Hartnett's famous "Homer in the Gloamin."
- The great 1917 pitching duel between Fred Toney (Reds) and Jim "Hippo" Vaughn, Toney winning on a no-hitter in the 10th inning.

The Cubs' famed "Murderers Row" of Rogers Hornsby, Hack Wilson, Kiki Cuyler, Riggs Stephenson and Charlie Grimm left behind many a memory at Wrigley Field; pitchers like Grover Cleveland Alexander, Dizzy Dean, Claude Passeau, Charlie Root, Larry French and Bill Lee toed the pitching rubber at Wrigley Field; and visiting players like Ruth, Lou Gehrig, Joe DiMaggio, Mel Ott, Bill Terry, Frankie Frisch, the Waner brothers, Jimmy Foxx, Honus Wagner and Mickey Cochrane, to name a few, graced the playing surface at Wrigley Field.

One of the earlier traditions of the park which still remains today is the flying of a flag bearing a "W" or an "L" atop the scoreboard after a game to inform passersby of the outcome of the day's contest. A blue flag with a white "W" indicates victory; a flag with a blue "L" denotes a loss. To inform night travelers of the results, a new innovation was added in 1978—a blue light atop the scoreboard signals victory and a white light indicates defeat.

The Wrigley Field scoreboard was constructed in 1937 when the outfield area was renovated to provide improved bleacher seating. Except for a few touches of modernization here and there—like the electronic message board—the original scoreboard remains intact, a reminder of the past when baseball did not resort to gimmickry, a board put together during a period of time when man knew nothing about instant replays and fireworks coming out of scoreboards.

The score-by-innings as well as the pitcher's numbers are all changed by hand. The numbers signaling batter, ball, strike and out, along with the occasional use of the H & E to signify hit and error are "eyelits" rather than electronic lights. There are no bulbs used, although to someone sitting in the box seats or grandstands it does appear that there are tiny lightbulbs.

In recent years, improvements have been made to the park to make an afternoon at Wrigley Field a comfortable and enjoyable experience. The seats in the lower grandstand down both foul lines have been turned in so that the fans sitting in those areas could easily see home plate. The upper deck was also completely restructured (a project which took four years beginning in 1968.) Plastic, self-rising contour seats were installed in the lower deck reserved seating area, replacing folding chairs. In 1981-82, new office space was created and old offices refurbished in the administrative area behind home plate. In 1983, a new ticket office was built directly behind home plate. During the winter of 1984, a new home clubhouse was completed under the third base stands.

FACTS ABOUT WRIGLEY FIELD

Did you know that:

1. No batted baseball has ever hit the centerfield scoreboard. Two balls barely missed it, clearing the bleachers and landing on Waveland and Sheffield Avenues. One ball was hit by Roberto Clemente to right-center; the other by Bill "Swish" Nicholson, to left-center.
2. The original vines were purchased and planted by Bill Veeck in 1938. Veeck first bought Bittersweet and strung it from the top of the wall to the bottom. Meanwhile, Veeck planted the ivy at the base of the wall.
3. The entire bleacher wall is 11 feet high. The basket attached to the wall was constructed in 1970.
4. Ernie Banks is the only Cubs player to have his uniform number (14) retired. It is imprinted on the flag which hangs from the leftfield foul pole.
5. A live cub bear was in attendance at the very first National League game played at Wrigley Field (then Weeghman Park) in 1916.

HIGHLIGHTS IN CUBS HISTORY

The Chicago Cubs solidified their front office team last September 21 when Jim Finks was appointed President and Chief Executive Officer of the Chicago National League Ball Club, Inc in an announcement from Stanton R. Cook, President and CEO of Tribune Company.

Since Tribune Company acquired the Cubs in August, 1981 for $20.5 million the position of Cubs president and CEO had been vacant.

After a longstanding affair with baseball and the Cubs, the Wrigley Family sold the team to Chicago Tribune Company, with the principal stockholder, William Wrigley, passing on controlling interest on June 16, 1981.

Thus began a new chapter in Cubs baseball. The new era was ushered in by Cubs Chief Executive Officer and Chairman of the Board, Andrew J. McKenna. That October 15 McKenna named Dallas Green as the chief architect behind the "New Tradition". Green had been the primary force behind cultivating the 1980 World Champion Philadelphia Phillies. Green was named Executive Vice President and General Manager of the Cubs.

Although a new era began in the fall of 1981, the tradition and rich heritage of Wrigley Field and Cubs teams of the past have not been forgotten. Of the eight original charter members of the National League, only the Cubs have operated continuously in the same city in which they were franchised.

The creation of the National League in 1876 is largely credited to William A. Hulbert, the first president of the Chicago club. Until his death in 1882, he held the dual role of league president and club president. With the assistance of Albert G. Spalding, the team's first manager, Hulbert drafted the National League constitution and by-laws in 1875. Over 100 years later, these rules have almost remained unchanged.

In 1907 "Cubs" was officially adopted as the nickname of the team. Although nicknames were not official in the early years of the league, the Chicago club was first dubbed with "White Stockings". After 1890, the most popular nicknames for the team were "Colts" and "Orphans". Legend has it that a newspaper writer first used the "Cubs" name on March 27, 1902 while searching for a short nickname to fit a headline.

The Wrigley family's involvement with the Cubs started after the 1915 season when William Wrigley, Jr. and a group of Chicago businessmen purchased the team from the Taft family of Cincinnati. In 1921, Wrigley became majority stockholder. After his death in 1932, his interest passed to his son Philip K. Wrigley. Upon Philip's death in 1977, principal interest in the ball club was left to William Wrigley. The sale of the club by William Wrigley in 1981 ended the longest continuous operation of a franchise by the same family in the same city in major league baseball history.

NOTES ON CUBS HISTORY

In 108 National League seasons, the Cubs have played 15,781 games and won 8,131 (150 were tied) of them, both lifetime and major league records.

The Cubs, as a team, have hit 100 or more home runs in 31 of their last 34 seasons.

On June 2, 1983, Pittsburgh pitcher Rick Rhoden hit into a triple play at Wrigley Field. With Steve Trout pitching, Rhoden hit a grounder to third baseman Ron Cey. Cey forced Dale Berra at third and threw to second baseman Ryne Sandberg who forced Junior Ortiz at second. Sandberg's relay to first baseman Bill Buckner tripled up Rhoden. It was the first triple play by the Cubs since July 2, 1972 when Pittsburgh's Manny Sanguillen hit into one.

Cubs hit the 8,000 victory mark on May 13, 1982 against the Houston Astros in the Astrodome. Allen Ripley was the winning pitcher for the Cubs that day. This is the most wins ever by a pro franchise in one city.

Ernie Banks became the first Cub to ever have his uniform (#14) retired on August 22, 1982.

On May 25, 1982, against San Diego at Jack Murphy Stadium, Fergie Jenkins became only the 7th man in baseball history to record 3,000 strikeouts.

The all-time major league record for wins in a season and winning percentage in a season is held by the 1906 Cubs, who won 116 and lost only 36, for a .763 percentage.

On September 26, 1908, Cubs pitcher Ed Reulbach pitched both ends of a doubleheader against Brooklyn, shutting them out in both games by scores of 5-0 and 3-0.

The largest crowd ever to see a baseball game at Wrigley Field was 51,556 on June 27, 1930, against Brooklyn. Of that number, 30,476 were Ladies Day guests and 1,332 passholders, so the official paid crowd that day was only 19,748.

On August 17-18, 1982 the Dodgers beat the Cubs 2-1 in a 21-inning game that was the second longest game played in Cubs history, tying a 21-inning affair in 1918 against Philadelphia and falling one shy of the club's all-time record of 22 innings set on May 22, 1927 when the Cubs defeated Boston 4-3 in Boston. The 21-inning contest also tied a record for most innings played by a Cubs team at home. On July 17, 1918 the Cubs beat Philadelphia 2-1 in a 21-inning game played in Chicago.

The 1935 Cubs set the record for consecutive wins in a season with 21 in a row.

The 1945 Cubs helped themselves to the National League pennant as they swept 19 doubleheaders and split 10.

The 1958 Cubs hit 182 homers during the season to establish the club record.

Ernie Banks hit the 500th home run of his career into the leftfield bleachers on May 12, 1970 off Atlanta's Pat Jarvis.

The largest Opening Day crowd at Wrigley Field, 45,777, attended the 1978 home opener vs. Pittsburgh on April 4.

The 1969 Cubs drew 1,674,993 fans to Wrigley Field to establish their single season attendance mark.

During the 1982 campaign, the Cubs hit into two triple plays, both against the New York Mets. On August 3, at Wrigley Field, Larry Bowa hit into a triple play that went from SS Bob Bailor to 2B Wally Backman to 1B Dave Kingman. On September 29 in New York, Keith Moreland hit into another triple play, 2B Brian Giles unassisted to 1B Rusty Staub. The Cubs won both games, 5-0 and 4-1, respectively.

A LOOK AT 1983

Despite a 71-91 record and a fifth place finish the 1983 Cubs continued to show improvement in many areas. Offensively and defensively, the 1983 Cubs made great strides compared to the 1982 club.

The Cubs struggled early before climbing back into the thick of the National League Eastern Division race. After an 0-6 start, the Cubs began turning their season around in early May. As the weather warmed, so did the ballclub. The Cubs opened June with a seven-game winning streak—their longest of the season. Included in that seven-game stretch was a four-game sweep of Pittsburgh.

From June 1 through June 13 the Cubs won 10 of 12, including two of three against the defending World Champion St. Louis Cardinals in a vibrant weekend series at Wrigley Field. Crowds of 37,024, 40,448, and 38,655 packed Wrigley Field for the three-game series highlighted by three Jody Davis homers and the 49th career shutout by Fergie Jenkins. The three-game attendance total of 116,127 established a Wrigley Field record.

The Cubs ventured to St. Louis the following weekend and again took two out of three. The St. Louis stop was the second on a four-city tour of the N.L. East. The Cubs skidded after leaving St. Louis, dropping seven of the last nine games on the 15-game trip, including five straight to the Pirates.

The unpredictable N.L. East mirrored the Cubs season. In early July the race was still up for grabs and the Cubs moved to within two games of first place and one game of .500 (38-39) by taking the first three games of a five-game series against Montreal. However, on the final day before the All-Star Break, July 4th, the Cubs dropped a doubleheader to the Expos.

The Cubs returned from the All-Star Break and were faced with a West Coast trip. They had a difficult time getting untracked and dropped nine of 10 games, counting the double holiday defeat to the Expos. Despite the slump they were only 4½ games off the lead on July 15.

The team continued to struggle after the break. On August 22, with the Cubs 10½ games back and 15 games under .500 (54-69), manager Lee Elia was replaced by Charlie Fox. One of the first moves made under Fox was the recall of minor leaguer Carmelo Martinez. Martinez celebrated both his first major league game and Fox' first as the Cubs manager by homering in his first official at bat.

Just two days later, Chuck Rainey, the club's top winner with 14 victories, pitched six perfect innings against Cincinnati and 8.2 innings of no-hit ball before Eddie Milner singled in the ninth.

Rookie centerfielder Mel Hall had an outstanding season and was a contender for top rookie honors. He was named National League Player of the Month for August after he hit five homers in 11 at bats.

Hall missed nearly two months of the early season with a thumb injury. All told, Hall, Leon Durham and Dickie Noles all missed a major portion of the season.

Even though Durham and Hall missed a combined total of 112 games, the Cubs still managed to put together a potent offensive attack. The Cubs had their best home run production in a decade by hitting 140, third best in the league. They led the league in slugging percentage (.401) and total bases (2212) and were second in runs scored (701) and doubles (272).

Ron Cey (24 HR, 90 RBI) and Jody Davis (24 HR, 84 RBI) had banner seasons offensively. Hall finished with 17 homers and 56 RBI while hitting .283. Keith Moreland led the club with a .302 average and chipped in with 16 homers and 70 RBI.

Defensively, the Cubs led the National League in fielding with a .982 percentage. It marked the first time in 16 years the Cubs led the league in fielding.

Individually, Ryne Sandberg (who stole 37 bases) made the transition from third base to second without a hitch. He led N.L. second basemen in fielding percentage (.986), double plays (126), assists (571), total chances (914) and games played at the position (157). Sandberg earned his first Gold Glove and the first by a Cubs player since 1970.

Sandberg and shortstop Larry Bowa were two main reasons why the Cubs improved their double play production by 54 in one year (164-110). Bowa, who holds the major league record for fielding percentage among shortstops, led the league with a .984 percentage.

The Cubs finished the season with 115 errors, one more than league-leader Cincinnati. The 115 errors represented a team record for the fewest by a Cubs team in their 108-year history. They also came within one errorless game of the club record (83).

Besides Hall, the Cubs displayed more talent at the Triple A level. Pitchers Bill Johnson and Reggie Patterson along with outfielder Joe Carter and second baseman Dan Rohn left positive impressions on the Cubs managerial staff after their recall in September.

On October 6, Dallas Green, the club's executive-vice president and general manager, announced Jim Frey would be the next Cubs manager with Charlie Fox returning to his front office duties.

JIM FREY MANAGER

James Gottfried Frey was born in Cleveland, OH on May 26, 1932. He and his wife Joan have four children, Jim, Cindy, Mary and Jennifer, and reside in Timonium, MD in the off-season.

Jim was named the 41st manager in Cubs history last October 6 when Charlie Fox returned to his front office position with the ballclub. This will be his first experience as a manager in the National League after a two-year stint as pilot of the Kansas City Royals in 1980 and part of 1981. Jim directed the Royals to the American League Championship in 1980 and lost to the Philadelphia Phillies and then manager Dallas Green in six games. The Royals had a 97-65 record in 1980. Frey had a 30-40 mark with Kansas City in 1981 when he was replaced, including a 10-10 record in the second half of the strike-shortened season. K.C. was only one-half game out of the first place in the second half when Frey was replaced by Dick Howser on August 31. He was the American League manager in the 1981 All-Star Game.

Prior to his first major league managerial opportunity in Kansas City, Frey spent 15 years in the Baltimore Orioles system, beginning in 1964 after retiring as an active player. He stayed with the O's until leaving for the K.C. job after the 1979 season. Frey was hired by former New York Mets manager George Bamberger as the Mets batting coach in 1982 and continued those duties, plus coaching first base, last season in New York. Frey and Bamberger coached together in Baltimore.

"Jim Frey was one of my choices from the start of our hunt for a new manager," said Cubs Executive Vice President and General Manager Dallas Green after he announced the selection of Frey last fall. "In my mind I felt we needed a man who had managed before and had been successful. We also needed someone who had a background with a solid minor league organization like the Orioles—an organization which believed in player development. Jim has the ingredients we have been looking for. He is a career minor league player who always made the most of his talents and learned his trade. He is a tough competitor."

Frey is looking forward to the challenge of molding the Cubs into a playoff contender. A proven winner, Frey has been connected as a coach/manager with five major league teams which played in the World Series.

"The Cubs are a great challenge," said Frey before the season. "My job is to create a winning attitude and a winning team concept. Instead of having players think in terms of individual goals, we have to start thinking in terms of team goals. A player can still enjoy individual success, mind you, but the team concept is the overall goal."

Frey's first priority when he came to spring training in 1984 was to get a set starting rotation."Before you can get a ballclub going in the right direction," explained Frey, "you've got to have your pitching staff going in the right direction."

Although he played professional baseball as an outfielder for 14 seasons, Frey never made it to the big leagues despite a lifetime batting average of .302. Frey won two batting titles in the minor leagues, in 1957 while playing in the Texas League, and in 1960 while in the International League. He was the Texas League's MVP in '57, leading the circuit in seven offensive categories. Frey attended Ohio State University and was originally signed by the Paducah, KY team of the Mississippi-Ohio Valley League in 1950. Frey's best season in the minors was in '57 when he batted .336 for Tulsa, leading the league in runs (102), hits (198), doubles (50) and triples (11).

Prior to his coaching stint with Baltimore, where he served as a hitting instructor for 10 seasons, bullpen coach (1970-75) and first base coach (1976-79), Frey scouted for the Orioles from 1966-69. He managed the club's rookie league team in Bluefield, WVA in 1964-65.

In Chicago, Frey will be reunited with Billy Connors, who served as his pitching coach in Kansas City. Frey also hired Don Zimmer to coach third base. Zimmer was a schoolboy chum of Frey's. The two began playing sandlot baseball in the Cincinnati area at age 13 and played on the same high school and American Legion teams as teenagers. At Western Hill High School (graduate, 1949), Frey played first base and pitched while Zimmer played shortstop. Frey and Zimmer are just two of the Western Hills alumni who later played in the Major Leagues...others include Pete Rose, Eddie Brinkman, Russ Nixon, Dick Drott, Herm Wehmeier and Art Mahaffey.

Jim enjoys playing golf in the off-season and is also an avid reader of history books, particularly those concerning World War II and the Civil War.

RUBEN AMARO

Ruben Amaro (Mora) was born in Monterrey, Nuevo Leon, Mexico on January 7, 1936. He and his wife Judith have two children, David and Ruben, and reside in Philadelphia, PA in the off-season.

Amaro will begin his second season with the Cubs in 1984 after serving as the club's third base coach in 1983. Prior to coming to Chicago, Amaro was the first base coach of the Philadelphia Phillies in 1980 and 1981, both seasons under Phillies manager Dallas Green, now Executive Vice President and General Manager of the Cubs. Ruben was in charge of Latin American affairs in 1982 for Philadelphia. During the past two winters he served as general manager of the Zulia team in the Venezuelan League.

Ruben played several positions during his minor and major league career but was primarily regarded as a shortstop. Signed by the St. Louis Cardinals in 1954, Amaro first made it to the big leagues in 1958 with the Cards. Later that season he was traded to the Phillies and played in their farm system until making the major league team in 1960. He played six consecutive seasons in Philadelphia, hitting a major league career-high in 1964 with a .264 average. That same season he also won a N.L. Gold Glove for his shortstop work in 129 games.

Amaro later played for the New York Yankees (1966-68) and California Angels (1969), his last season in the major leagues. He retired as an active player in 1972 to join Philadelphia as a scout. His career major league batting average was .234.

Although he began his professional career in the Mexican League, Amaro caught the eye of Philadelphia's management in 1959 while at Buffalo, where he led the International League shortstops in double plays with 84.

In addition to his experience as a player, scout and coach, Amaro also managed the Phillies Auburn farm club in the New York-Penn League in 1977.

BILLY CONNORS

William Joseph Connors III was born in Schenectady, NY on November 2, 1941. He is single and resides in St. Pettersburg, FL during the off-season.

Connors will be starting his third season as the Cubs pitching coach after coming over from the Kansas City Royals, where he was credited with developing a staff that carried the Royals to the 1980 World Series. Prior to his stint with K.C., Connors had coaching experience in the New York Mets organization (five years) and Philadelphia Phillies (three years). While at Kansas City, new Cubs manager Jim Frey also served as the field manager.

One of the highlights of Connors' coaching career with the Cubs has been the role he played in the development of reliever Lee Smith. Under Connors' tutelage, Smith saved 17 games and posted a 2.69 ERA in 1982. Last season, Smith became one of the premier relief pitchers in all of baseball leading the National League in saves (29) while compiling a 1.65 ERA.

Connors also played a major role in guiding the Cubs bullpen the past two seasons. During the second half of the '82 campaign, the Cubs pen was considered among the best in baseball, a pace which continued through the All-Star break in 1983.

Connors was also instrumental in overseeing Chuck Rainey's best season in the big leagues. Rainey won 14 games in 1983 to lead the Cubs staff. Previously, Rainey had never won more than eight games in one season for the Boston Red Sox.

Connors began his major league career in 1966 when he pitched in 11 games under Cubs manager Leo Durocher (0-1 record). He also made brief appearances with the New York Mets in 1967 (six games) and 1968 (nine games). His lifetime M.L. record was 0-2.

Billy began his professional career in the Cubs farm system as an infielder-pitcher. In 1962 he also added catching and outfielding to increase his versatility but finally settled on pitching in 1963. That season for Wenatchee of the Northwest League he was 12-11 and was 7th in league ERA with a 3.22 mark. His 2.60 ERA with Tacoma of the Pacific Coast League in 1966 was the fourth best mark in that loop. Prior to his pro career, Connors was a two-sport standout at Syracuse University. He captained the freshman basketball team and in his sophomore season helped the Orangemen baseball team to a NCAA district title and a third place finish in the College World Series.

Connors was Player of the Year in 1959 at Linton High School in Schenectady, NY in both basketball and baseball. Billy pitched the semifinal games in the 1953 and 1954 Little League World Series in Williamsport, PA. He won both games for Schenectady. After losing the 1953 championship game, 1-0, Schenectady won the title in 1954 with a 7-5 victory over the Colton, CA. team that included the late Cubs infielder Kenny Hubbs.

His hobbies include racquetball and golf. Billy also trains his pet parrot, "Lucy", in the winter months and is a co-partner in the Larry Bowa Baseball School in St. Petersburg, FL.

JOHNNY OATES

Johnny Lane Oates was born in Sylva, NC on January 21, 1946. He is married and resides with his wife Gloria and their three children, Lori, Andy and Jenny, in Colonial Heights, VA during the off-season.

Oates was hired by manager Jim Frey following the winter meetings and will take over the chores as bullpen coach. Last season, Johnny managed the Yankees farm team in Columbus (AAA) of the International League into the playoffs with an 83-57 record. The Clippers were beaten in the league finals by Tidewater, the eventual champion of Triple A baseball.

In 1982, his first season as a professional manager, Oates directed the Nashville Sounds (AA) of the Southern League into post-season play. Oates had taken a job in the Yankees farm system following his retirement from baseball at the end of the '81 season. He spent his final two years as a player in New York.

Oates, a respected defensive catcher throughout his career, broke in with the Baltimore Orioles organization. He was drafted on the first round of the 1967 free agent draft, secondary phase, and played three and a half seasons of minor league ball before making his M.L. debut with the Orioles in the final weeks of the 1970 season. Oates originally had been drafted by the Chicago White Sox in June of 1966.

Oates' first full season in the big leagues was in 1972 with Baltimore. He was traded to Atlanta after that season, where he received the majority of his M.L. playing time. After that, Oates also played for the Philadelphia Phillies in part of 1975 and all of 1976, then spent three seasons with the Los Angeles Dodgers before concluding his career with the Yanks. He finished with a lifetime batting average of .250.

Oates played in one N.L. Championship Series, in 1976 with the Phillies, and appeared in two World Series as a member of the Dodgers, 1977 and 1978. He singled in his only at-bat in the '78 Series.

During his playing career, Oates played on only one second division team—the 1973 Atlanta Braves. There are three members on the 1984 Cubs team who are former teammates: Larry Bowa, Jay Johnstone and Ron Cey. Oates credits his knowledge of catching to Jeff Torborg, but also praises former Yankee catchers and coaches Yogi Berra, Jim Hegan and Charlie Lau. Johnny attended Virginia Tech ('68) and received a Bachelor of Science degree in Health and Physical Education. Hobbies include golf and bowling.

JOHN VUKOVICH

John Christopher Vukovich was born in Sacramento, CA on July 31, 1947. He and his wife Bonnie have two children, Nicole and Vincent, and reside in Pine Hill, NJ during the off-season.

John joined the Cubs coaching staff two seasons ago, serving as first base coach in his maiden year. Last year he assisted managers Lee Elia and Charlie Fox in the dugout.

"Vuk" was a member of the 1980 championship club in Philadelphia and also played for Dallas Green in 1981. He was regarded as an excellent third baseman during his career, playing in parts of 10 seasons in the big leagues. John was drafted by the Phillies in 1966 and spent parts of the '70, '71, '76, '77 and '79 seasons with Philadelphia. Vuk was also a member of the Milwaukee Brewers in 1973-74 and began the 1975 season with the Cincinnati Reds. He was the starting third baseman that season for the Reds.

All told, Vukovich played on two major league teams which won championships (Cincinnati in 1975 and Philadelphia in 1980) and three other clubs which won division titles. He was also a member of three league champions in the minor leagues—Spartanburg ('67), Eugene ('72) and Oklahoma City ('79). He had his best overall offensive year in 1979 for the Oklahoma City 89ers, batting .291 in 101 games. He also hit 12 homers for Eugene with 96 RBI in 1970.

Vuk attended the American River College in Sacramento where he earned an Associates Arts degree in physical education. John played baseball, basketball and football at Amador County high school in Sutter Creek, CA. and he led his high school league in fielding four consecutive seasons. Vuk played American Legion ball in 1964 and 1965 and played amateur ball with shortstop Larry Bowa. John hit six homers in his M.L. career with his only N.L. homer coming off Jerry Koosman in 1976. His other five homers came with Milwaukee. Vukovich was part of a seven-player deal between Milwaukee and Philadelphia in 1972. John's off-season hobbies including hunting and fishing.

DON ZIMMER

Donald William Zimmer was born in Cincinnati, OH on January 17, 1931. He and his wife Jean have two children, Thomas and Donna, and reside in Treasure Island, FL in the off-season.

Zimmer was appointed third base coach by new manager Jim Frey shortly after the 1983 World Series, coming over from the New York Yankees where he had been a third base coach during the 1983 season. Zimmer had replaced Joe Altobelli, who left to assume the managerial position with the Baltimore Orioles in 1983.

Zimmer is a former Cub player (1960-61) who played in the major leagues for 12 seasons, mostly at shortstop. During his professional career, he played every position on the field.

Zimmer has had nine years of experience managing in the major leagues, starting in San Diego (1972—73). He also spent five seasons at the helm of the Boston Red Sox (1976-1980) and two seasons with the Texas Rangers (1981-82). He has a 620-600 lifetime record in the majors as a manager with two second-place and two third-place finishes, all in Boston. Prior to his five-year stint with the Red Sox, Don served Boston for two and a half years as its third base coach. He replaced Darrell Johnson on July 19, 1976.

Zimmer, who grew up in Cincinnati and played amateur and high school baseball with Jim Frey, began his pro career in the Dodgers system in 1949. Two serious head injuries threatened his career. The first injury came in 1953 while he was playing for St. Paul, where he was struck in the head by a pitch from Columbus' Jim Kirk. In 1956, while playing for Brooklyn, Don was struck in the face by a pitch from Reds hurler Hal Jeffcoat. On both occasions, Zimmer was batting .300 at the time of his injury.

After Don finally made it to the Dodgers in 1954, he stayed with them until coming to the Cubs on April 8, 1960. While with the Dodgers, Zimmer played second base in the final game of the 1955 World Series, won by Johnny Podres over the Yankees. It was Brooklyn's first and only World Championship. In his two seasons as a Cub, Zimmer batted .258 and .252. He hit 13 homers and drove in 40 runs to the Cubs in 1961 and represented them in one of the two 1961 All-Star games. Later that fall, Don was selected by the New York Mets in the Expansion Draft. After playing with the Mets, Zimmer also saw service with Cincinnati, the Los Angeles Dodgers and the Washington Senators. He returned to the minor leagues in 1966 and 1967 and retired as a player following the '67 season. Don was also a manager in 1967 in the Cincinnati farm system. He moved up to third base coach with the Montreal Expos in 1971. Don replaced Preston Gomez as San Diego Padres manager in April of 1972, after opening the season as the club's third base coach.

Zimmer, who played in two World Series (1955 and 1959), is an avid golfer and fisherman. He also holds the distinction of playing for Charlie Grimm and Lou Boudreau in 1960 and for the College of Coaches in 1961.

BILL CAMPBELL (39) RHP

CAMPBELL, WILLIAM RICHARD—Born 8-9-48, Highland Park, MI., turns 36, August 9. Bats-R; Throws-R; Ht. 6-4; Wt. 200. Wife's name: Linda. Children: Emily and Marnie. How obtained: Became a member of the Cubs on December 8, 1981 when he was signed following the re-entry draft. Major League service: 10 years, 79 days.

1983 SEASON: Was the workhorse of the National League with 82 appearances, a career high, and only two shy of the club record held by Ted Abernathy and Dick Tidrow. . .had an outstanding spring camp, then dipped in April before finding the groove again in May. Appeared in 14 games in May and was scored upon in only two contests. Had a 2.42 ERA that month. . .made 14 appearances in June when the Cubs compiled an 18-11 record. . .had 16 appearances in July and improved his ERA to 2.96 by the month's end. . .the constant work—he was in 56 of the first 102 games by July 30—took its toll in the final two months of the season. . .best stretch of the season was from May 22 through June 11 when he allowed only three runs in a dozen appearances covering 19.2 innings (1.37 ERA). . .won three of his final four decisions to finish with a 6-8 record, doubling his victory total in his first season as a Cub (3-6 in 1982). Defeated San Diego (twice), Philadelphia, Atlanta, St. Louis and New York. . .four of his victories came on the road. . .was especially effective against St. Louis (.152 batting average) and San Diego (.154). . .lefthanders batted .262 against him. . .pinch-hitters only batted .194 against "Soup". . .his eight saves matched his total in 1982. . .collected the second hit of his M.L. career last season, going 1-for-10. Got first M.L. hit in 1982 off Montreal's Scott Sanderson, now a teammate.

MAJOR LEAGUE: Bill has a 69-54 lifetime record in the majors and has appeared in 552 games. His 118 saves ranks 13th on the all-time save list, one shy of John Hiller. . .Campbell had a strong second half of the '82 season, his first with the Cubs, showing a 1.79 ERA in 23 games (45.1 innings) beginning on July 16. . .was one of three Cub pitchers that season to have more innings pitched than hits allowed (100-89). . .his longest stint as a Cub came against the Dodgers on August 17 when he threw five innings of 1-hit relief in a 21-inning loss. . .led the Cubs in '82 in percentage of batters faced/retired (72.4) and tied Lee Smith for the club reliever lead with 31 three-batter innings. . .before signing with the Cubs, Campbell had spent the previous nine years in the American League with Minnesota (1973-76) and Boston (1977-81). . .made 30 appearances with seven saves and a 3.19 ERA (1-1 record) in his final season in Boston in 1981. . .in 1980, Bill underwent extensive rehabilitation to strengthen his right shoulder and appeared in only 23 games that season with a 4-0 record. . .allowed only one home run in 41 innings in 1980. . .in five seasons with the Red Sox, Bill had 28 wins and 51 saves. . .had an off-season with Boston in 1979 (3-4, 4.28 ERA) after going 7-5 with a 3.91 ERA the year before. . .his 13-9 record and 2.96 ERA along with 31 saves in his first season with the Red Sox in 1977 earned him the A.L. Rolaids Relief Award for the second straight year. . .appeared in the All-Star game in '77 and pitched an inning of hitless ball. . .he had been signed by Boston after gaining free agency from the Twins. . .Soup was the first player signed in the history of the re-entry draft on November 6, 1976.

Bill posted a 17-5 record with the Twins in 1976 to tie John Hiller's A.L. victories by a reliever record set in 1974. . .167.2 innings pitched broke the A.L. record of 165.0 by a reliever set by the White Sox' Eddie Fisher in 1965. . .earned both The Sporting News and the Rolaids relief pitcher of the year awards for his 1976 accomplishments. . .in four seasons with the Twins, Bill compiled 32 wins and 51 saves. . .last M.L. start came in 1975 for Minnesota. . .he finished two of his seven starts that year. . .had 19 saves and an 8-7 mark (2.63 ERA) for the Twins in his first full season in the majors in 1974.

IN THE MINORS: Campbell was signed by Minnesota scout Jesse Flores as a free agent in 1970 after pitching a no-hitter against Flores' semi-pro team. . .originally he played the outfield and didn't become a full-time pitcher until 1966 while attending Mount San Antonio Junior College in Walnut, CA. Bill was named to the All-Star teams in each of his three minor league seasons. . .was "Pitcher of the Year" for Charlotte (AA) of the Southern League in 1972, posting a 13-10 record with a 2.26 ERA. . .brought up to the Twins as a reliever midway through the 1973 season.

PERSONAL/MISC: Bill is married to the former Linda Ackert and they reside in Barrington, IL during the off-season. . .was graduated from Ganesha High School in Pomona, CA in 1966 where he lettered in baseball and basketball. . .attended Mount San Antonio JC for 1½ years leading his team to the California state baseball championship. . .served in U.S. Army for two years. . .saw combat duty in Vietnam as a radio operator. . .nicknamed "Soup". . .hobbies include golf and racquetball. . .very active in community affairs. . .participated in the Cubs winter caravan in 1982, 1983 and 1984. . .was named BoSox Man of the Year in 1978.

How obtained: Became a Cub on December 8, 1980 when he was drafted from the Springield Redbirds of the St. Louis Cardinals organization. He was the Cubs' first selection and the first selection overall. Major League service: 3 years.

1983 SEASON: Had a banner year at the plate with 24 homers and 84 RBI while batting .271. . .his home run total tied Ron Cey for the club leadership in that department and was the 8th best total in the National League and tops among league catchers. . .in two previous seasons as a Cub, Jody had driven in a total of 73 runs. . .his .271 batting average was also a M.L. high. . .the 24 homers were the most hit by a Cubs catcher since Gabby Hartnett hit a club record 37 in 1930. . .Jody became the first Cubs catcher to hit 20 or more homers in a season since Hartnett belted 22 in 1934. . .his 84 RBI total was second to Cey's 90 on the club and was second best among N.L. catchers. . .San Diego's Terry Kennedy had 98. . .hit the first two grand slams of his career, both in June. . .connected off St. Louis' Bob Forsch at Wrigley Field on June 12 and again off Randy Lerch of Montreal on the road on June 26. . .he became one of several N.L. players to hit two grand slams in one month. The last to do it was Phil Garner of Pittsburgh in 1976. . .June was Jody's most productive month of the season. In a weekend series at Wrigley Field (June 10-12) against the Cardinals, Jody smacked three home runs and drove in 10 runs. . .he earned N.L. Player of the Week honors for the period between June 6-12. . .had 13 HR and 45 RBI at the All-Star break. . .had six homers and 26 RBI in June, batting .289. . .also hit six homers in July. . .had a nine-game hitting streak from July 13-22, going 14-for-34, .412. . .slipped into a home run drought in late August. . .went without a HR from August 22 until he hit his 22nd and 23rd on September 23 against the New York Mets. . .despite the decline in power, Jody batted .406 from September 1 until September 19, hitting safely in 15 of 18 games (28-for-69). . .his six RBI against Montreal on June 26 was a personal one-game high. . .had 12 games where he drove in three or more runs. . .hit four homers against both Atlanta and St. Louis. . .batted .356 (21-for-59) against the Cardinals with 16 RBI. . .best hitting months were September/ October (.339), June (.289) and July (.280). . .hit .285 at Wrigley Field with 15 homers and 52 RBI in 239 at-bats. . .hit .282 on natural surfaces. . .had eight game-winning hits, third on the club behind Ron Cey and Keith Moreland, both with 11. . .hit at least one HR against every N.L. club. . .31 doubles ranked third on the team behind Bill Buckner (38) and Cey (33). . .tied with Moreland for third place in total bases (245). . .led all N.L. receivers in number of games caught (150). . .his slugging percentage of .480 ranked second to Mel Hall (.488) among Cub regulars. . .had two 4-hit games, going 4-for-4 April 27 against San Diego and 4-for-4 September 3 vs. Houston. . .had 36 multiple hit games.

MAJOR LEAGUES: Lost his catching job to Keith Moreland in spring training 1982 but became the Cubs No. 1 receiver by April 30. . .put together a 14-game hitting streak in June, longest of the season on the club, batting .309 (17-for-55) during the stretch. . .hit 12 homers in 1982, five coming against Atlanta. . .Jody's homer total and 52 RBI were the most by a Cubs catcher in both departments since 1979 when Barry Foote hit 16 HR and drove in 56 runs. . .Davis had an excellent season behind the plate. . .from June 23-29 he threw out 7 of 13 baserunners attempting to steal, including Omar Moreno three times. . .on the season, Jody gunned down Moreno five of seven attempts. . .like '83, Jody batted well in September, hitting safely in 11 of 14 games from September 4-15 (19-for-45) for a .422 mark. . .finished the last month with a .377 average to raise his season's mark to .259. . .tied Pittsburgh's Tony Pena for second place in assists by a catcher (89) behind Gary Carter (104). . .Carter played in 24 more games, however. . .tied San Diego's Terry Kennedy for the N.L. lead in double plays by a catcher (11). . .Jody became the Cubs starting catcher in 1981, his first year with the club. . .took over the position on June 5 after hitting .389 in May. . .he also hit .333 in August. . .finished the '81 season with four homers and 21 RBI in just 56 games. . .Jody was named the catcher on the Baseball Digest All-Rookie team and the Chicago Chapter of the Baseball Writers Association of America selected him as Chicago's Rookie of the Year.

IN THE MINORS: In 1980, Davis underwent ulcer surgery prior to the start of the season and was on the disabled list until June 20. While on the disabled list he lost more than 50 pounds. . .in 45 games that season at St. Petersburg (A) in the Florida State League he batted .277. . .in 1979 he led the Texas League (AA) in game winning RBI (16), was second in the league in RBI (91) and third in homers (21). . .was selected to play in the Texas League All-Star game. . .was traded by the Mets to the Cardinals on December 10, 1979 for pitcher Ray Searage. . .in 1978 he led the Carolina League (A) in sacrifice flies (13), was second in RBI (94), led all catchers in double plays (8) and was second in assists (71). . .in 1977 he was assigned to Little Falls of the New York-Penn League (A) where he finished the season sixth in RBI (46) and was voted the team's MVP. . .Jody was drafted by the Mets organization in January 1976.

DID YOU KNOW

That when Chuck Rainey's no-hitter on August 23, 1983 was ended by Cincinnati's Eddie Milner with two out in the 9th inning, it was the 22nd time in baseball history a no-hitter has been broken with two outs. Additionally, three perfect games have been busted with two outs in the ninth. Rainey was the first Cub to lose a 2-out, 9th inning no-hitter. The Cubs also broke one up themselves—Joe Wallis ruined Tom Seaver's bid in 1975.

FERGIE JENKINS (31) RHP

JENKINS, FERGUSON ARTHUR—Born 12-13-43, Chatham, Ont., Canada, turns 41, December 13. Bats-R; Throws-R; Ht. 6-5; Wt. 215. Wife's name: Katherine. Children: Kelly, Delores and Kimberly. How obtained: Became a Cub on December 8, 1981 when he was signed following the re-entry draft. Major League service: 18 years, 27 days.

1983 SEASON: Had a disappointing season and eventually lost his spot in the starting rotation in mid-September. . .appeared in relief against Pittsburgh on September 14, his first relief stint as a Cub since September 20, 1970. . .five of his six victories came in starting assignments. His sixth win, against the Pirates on September 21 in relief at Wrigley Field, was the 284th of his career, pushing him past Jim Kaat into 19th place on the all-time victory list. . .Tony Mullane is in 18th place with 285. . .next is Robin Roberts with 286. . .tied for 15th place are Early Wynn and Lefty Grove, both with 300. . .Jenkins had one CG, a 7-0, 4-hitter against St. Louis at Wrigley Field on June 10. . .that was the 49th shutout of his career. . .another milestone for Fergie was passing Bob Gibson on the all-time strikeout list. Fergie moved into 6th place on May 20 against Cincinnati when he notched the 3,118th strikeout of his career. . .had a career high 15 no-decisions. . .was 2-0 with eight no-decisions from May 8 to June 30. . .began the season with a 1-3 record in his first six starts. . .went 12 starts between his third and fourth wins, getting No. 4 against Atlanta on August 18. . .Fergie went 8.2 innings in that game, yielding seven hits in a 3-0 win. . .his wins came against San Francisco (April 22), Pittsburgh (June 4), St. Louis (June 10), Atlanta (August 18), Houston (September 3) and Pittsburgh (September 21). . .overall, made four relief appearances (4 ER in 6.2 innings, 5.39 ERA). . .his 29 starts give him 594 lifetime, tying him with Phil Niekro for 12th on the all-time list. . .Grover Cleveland Alexander is in 11th place with 598. . .only Don Sutton (605) and Steve Carlton (606) have started more games among active pitchers. . .pitched his best against St. Louis (.200 batting average), Philadelphia (.214) and Montreal (.242). . .pitched far better in day games (opponents hit .258) than at night (.322).

MAJOR LEAGUES: Returned to the Cubs in 1982 for a second stint and led the club in victories (14) and ERA (3.15). . .also pitched four complete games. . .could have won several more games considering the club scored only nine runs for him in 11 of his 15 losses. . .in 28 of his 34 starts, Fergie allowed less than three earned runs. . .his 3.15 ERA was 13th best in the N.L. . .became the seventh pitcher in baseball history to strike out 3,000 batters when he fanned Garry Templeton in San Diego on May 25. . .only pitcher in baseball history to have more than 3,000 strikeouts and less than 1,000 walks (997). . .his ERA in 1982 was the lowest by a Cub starter since Rick Reuschel had a 2.79 ERA in 1977. . .closed 1982 by going 8-2 in his last 12 starts, with all wins coming against contenders. . .had a combined record of 10-5 and a 2.41 ERA against the World Champion Cardinals, Expos, Dodgers and Pirates. Still considered a good-hitting ptcher. Fergie had 13 hits (.245 average) in 1983 to lead all Cub pitchers. . .that included two doubles and a triple, plus five RBI. . .hit only .149 in 1982 but drove in six runs. . .in his previous N.L. seasons Fergie had 13 homers and 74 RBI. . .one of four pitchers to win 100 games in both leagues (Cy Young, Jim Bunning and Gaylord Perry are the others). . .fielded 1.000 in 1983 (handled 34 chances) and his lifetime total of 363 putouts is a modern major league record for pitchers. . .in his first tour of duty with the Cubs he won 20 or more games in six straight seasons. . .he has won 20 or more games seven times. . .only Jim Palmer, among active pitchers, has won 20 or more games eight times. . .won the Cy Young Award in 1971 with the Cubs, posting a 24-13 record and a 2.77 ERA. . .was also named The Sporting News National League Pitcher of the Year. . .in 1974 he was named Comeback Player of the Year when he was 25-12 with Texas.

In 1968 he tied a major league record by losing five 1-0 decisions. . .led the National League in complete games in 1967 (20), 1970 (24) and 1971 (30). . .led American League in 1974 (29). . .named to the National League All-Star team in 1967, 1971 and 1972. . .while in the American League he batted twice, going one-for-two against the Twins in 1974. . .was originally obtained by the Cubs April 21, 1966 from the Philadelphia Phillies along with centerfielder Adolpho Phillips and first baseman John Herrnstein in exchange for pitchers Larry Jackson and Bob Buhl. . .was traded by the Cubs to Texas on October 25, 1973 for third baseman Bill Madlock and infielder/ outfielder Vic Harris. . .was traded to Boston for outfielder Juan Beniquez and pitchers Steve Barr and Craig Skok on November 19, 1975. . .was reacquired by Texas for pitcher John Poloni and cash on December 14, 1977. . .in 1980 he was awarded the Order of Canada, a medal bestowed for outstanding humanitarian achievement. . .added the William Harding Achievement Award to his long list of honors at the Diamond Dinner in 1983, an award given annually by the Chicago Chapter of the Baseball Writers Association of America.

IN THE MINORS: Fergie compiled a 43-26 record in four minor leagues as a member of the Phillies organization. . .in 1962 he was 7-2 with Miami (A) of the Florida State League with an ERA of 0.97, striking out 69 batters in 65 innings. . .while pitching for Chattanooga (AA) of the Southern League in 1964 he was 10-6 and struck out 149 batters in 139 innings. . .teammate of Cubs executive vice-president and general manager Dallas Green at Little Rock (AAA) in 1964.

PERSONAL/MISC: Fergie is married to the former Ann Katherine Williams and they reside in Blenheim, Ontario during the off-season. . .graduated from Chatham Vocational High School where he lettered in baseball, basketball and hockey. . .turned down pro hockey offers for a career in baseball. . .was signed by the Phillies as a free agent on June 15, 1962. . .hobbies include hunting, fishing and working on his farm, where he raises Limousin and Aberdeen Angus pedigree cattle for breeding stock bulls.

RYNE SANDBERG (23) IF

SANDBERG, RYNE DEE—Born 9-18-59, Spokane, WA., turns 25, September 18. Bats-R; Throws-R; Ht. 6-2; Wt. 180. Wife's name: Cindy. Children: Lindsey. How obtained: Became a Cub on January 27, 1982 when he was traded by the Phillies along with shortstop Larry Bowa for shortstop Ivan DeJesus. Major League service: 2 years, 34 days.

1983 SEASON: Ryne earned the first Gold Glove of his career and became the first player in National League history to win a Gold Glove in his first season at a new position. . .the Cubs second baseman was the first Cub to win a Gold Glove since 1970 when shortstop Don Kessinger was honored. . .it marked the 14th time a Cub had won a Gold Glove. . .he led all National League second baseman in fielding percentage (.986), games played at the position (157), assists (571), double plays (126) and total chances (914). . .he had a 38-game errorless streak in '83 from May 21 to June 30. . .Ryne did play shortstop for an inning as a defensive replacement. . .he was second on the club in hits (165) and games played (158). . .led the club in runs scored (94) for the second straight year. . .also led in stolen bases with 37 and official at bats (633). . .the 37 steals represented the most stolen bases by a Cubs second baseman since Johnny Evers stole 46 in 1907. . .stole two bases in one game three times. . .stole home for the second time in his career on June 4 against Jim Bibby and the Pirates. . .in his two seasons as a Cub he has stolen 69 bases in 92 attempts for a 75 percent success ratio. . .offensively, he started slowly as he did in 1982. . .was batting .187 on May 1. . .had a team-high 12-game hitting streak from April 28 to May 17. . .from May 28 to June 27 he hit safely in 24 of 30 games (43-for-123, .350) to raise his average from .203 to .271. . .his average climbed to .285 on July 4 following a 10-for-17 stretch. . .established a career-high with four hits in a game (September 17 against the New York Mets). . .had 39 multi-hit games including nine three-hit games and one four-hit game. . .hit the first grand slam of his career on May 31 when he connected off Houston's Frank LaCorte. . .batted .312 with runners in scoring position, second among regulars to Leon Durham (.313). . .with runners in scoring position and less than two outs he batted .367. . .Ryne scored runners from third with less than two outs 71 percent of the time (17 of 24).

MAJOR LEAGUES: In 1982, Ryne enjoyed one of the finest rookie seasons of any Cub in the last 15 years. . .was selected Chicago Rookie of the Year by the Chicago Baseball Writers Association of America. . .after a 1-for-32 start, he finished with a .271 average, reaching a season-high on August 12 (.276). . .was second on the team with 33 doubles and 32 stolen bases. . .led team with 103 runs scored, becoming the first Cub to score more than 100 runs since 1978 (Ivan DeJesus). . .103 runs also established a team record for runs scored by a rookie, breaking a 50-year-old mark held by Billy Herman. . .his 32 stolen bases were also a record for a Cubs third baseman, breaking Harry Steinfeldt's record of 29 that had stood since 1906. . .from May 7 to September 1, Ryne played 105 games and failed to hit safely in two straight games only twice. . .defensively, he was outstanding at third base even though he had played just a handful of games at that position previously. . .committed 11 errors in 140 games at third, second to Bob Horner's 10 errors in 137 games. . .moved to second base on September 3 and played 24 games. . .became the first Cub to steal home since Rodney Scott (June 6, 1978) when he accomplished it against the Braves and pitcher Bob Walk on July 17. . .hit two homers in one game vs. Pittsburgh and Eddie Solomon on April 23. . .had one stretch where he stole 15 bases in 17 attempts.

IN THE MINORS: During the 1981 season, Ryne played at Oklahoma City (AAA) in the Phillies' organization. . .led team in games (133), at-bats (519) and hits (152). . .played 117 games at shortstop and had a fielding percentage of .972, second in the American Association. . .stole 32 bases in 42 tries. . .in 1980, he had an outstanding season at Reading (AA) of the Eastern League batting .310 and leading the league's shortstops in assists (386), fielding average (.964) and double plays (81) earning a place on the Eastern League All-Star team. . .in 1979, he led the Western Carolinas League (A) in double plays (80). . .in 1978, he led the Pioneer League (Rookie) in double plays (38) while playing for Helena. . .was drafted by the Phillies on the 21st round of the June 8, 1978 free agent draft.

PERSONAL/MISC: Ryne is married to the former Cindy White and they reside in Tempe, AZ. during the off-season. . .Ryne attended North Central High School in Spokane and was graduated in 1978. . .hobbies include hunting, fishing, hiking, playing tennis and listening to music. . .while at North Central he earned All-City honors in basketball and baseball and was a first team All-State selection in football. . .Ryne signed a national letter of intent at Washington State University just four days before signing a pro baseball contract. . .participated in '84 Cubs Caravan in January.

SCOTT SANDERSON (24) RHP

SANDERSON, SCOTT DOUGLAS—Born 7-22-56, Dearborn, MI, turns 28, July 22. Bats-R; Throws-R; Ht. 6-5; Wt. 200. Wife's name: Cathleen. How obtained: Became a Cub on December 7, 1983 in a three-team trade which had Sanderson being acquired from Montreal, the Expos acquiring pitcher Gary Lucas from San Diego and the Cubs sending infielder Carmelo Martinez, infielder Fritz Connally and pitcher Craig Lefferts to the Padres. Major League service: 5 years, 62 days.

1983 SEASON: Pitched in his fifth full season with the Expos, finishing 6-7 with a 4.65 ERA in an injury-filled season. Ironically, Scott tore ligaments in his right thumb in a baserunning accident at Wrigley Field on July 4 and was placed on the disabled list until September 1. . .got the victory that day against the Cubs, going six innings in a 4-2 victory to improve his record to 5-6. . .made two relief appearances, including a September 6 three-inning stint against the Cubs, before returning to the starting rotation on September 13, also against the Cubs. . .pitched 4.2 innings in that start and did not get the decision in a 5-2 Expos win. . .won five days later in Pittsburgh for his final victory of the season. . .began the season with victories in his first three starts, over Los Angeles, the Cubs and St. Louis. . .was 2-0 versus the Cubs to improve his lifetime mark to 10-5 against his new team. . .lost four decisions from April 27 until he beat Philadelphia on May 27 to square his record at 4-4. . .longest effort was 7.1 innings against St. Louis in a 6-5 victory on April 21.

MAJOR LEAGUES: Until 1983, Sanderson had never experienced a losing season as a professional. . .finished 1982 very strong, going 6-1 in his last eight starts from August 24. . .had a 2.91 ERA in those last eight starts to finish 12-12. . .struck out 11—his career high—in the only setback in that stretch against the New York Mets on September 16. . .he did it in only five innings. . .from September 11 to 21, he fanned 21 batters in only 11.2 innings. . .his strikeout total in 1982 (158 in 224 innings) was the eighth best in the N.L. . .innings and strikeout totals were both career highs. . .was 3-0 against Cincinnati in 1982 and is 6-0 against the Reds lifetime. . .hit his first-and only career homer off Randy Martz, a grand slam, at Wrigley Field on September 11, 1982. . .was 9-7 in the shortened 1981 season with a 2.96 ERA. . .had his best year in the majors in 1980, going 16-11 with a 3.11 ERA. . .completed seven games (a career-high which he tied in 1982). . .Scott was sixth in the N.L. in wins that season and ninth among qualifiers for the ERA title. . .went 9-8 in 1979, his first full season with the Expos, appearing in 34 games, the most in his 5½ season M.L. career. . .was promoted to the Expos on August 1, 1978 after only 28 minor league starts. . .made M.L. debut against the Cubs on August 6 in a starting assignment and did not figure in the decision in a 4-3 loss. . .lasted 5.1 innings and allowed one run and six hits. . .faced the Cubs on August 13 and took the loss, losing 2-1, in a seven-inning performance which saw him yield both runs. . .after an 0-2 start, Scott notched his first M.L. win in San Diego on September 2, going 6.2 innings in a 3-2 win over the Padres. . .went 4-0 with a 2.16 ERA in September to win Expos Player-of-the-Month honors and finish with a 4-2 record and 2.51 ERA.

IN THE MINORS: After he was drafted on the third round of the June free agent draft in 1977, Sanderson went 5-2 at West Palm Beach (A) of the Florida State League. . .pitched at Memphis (AA) of the Southern League in 1978, going 5-3. . .was promoted to Denver (AAA) of the American Association, posting a 4-2 mark, before his step up to the majors leagues.

PERSONAL/MISC: Scott is married to the former Cathleen Cavanaugh and they reside in Northbrook, IL during the off-season. . .Scott was all-state in baseball in his final two years of high school. . .attended Glenbrook North in Northbrook. . .drafted by Kansas City in 1974 but instead Scott opted for Vanderbilt University, majoring in business finance and history. . .played for the U.S. National team at the Inter-Continental Cup in Montreal in 1975 and in the 1976 Pan American Games. . .Scott attracted the attention of Expos management after his rookie season in 1977 when he went 9-2 with a 1.41 ERA in the Venezuelan Winter League and had two more wins in the Caribbean World Series. . .very civic-minded individual who participated in many charitable functions for the Expos. . .continued this role with the Cubs over the winter and participated in the annual Cubs Caravan in January. . .hobbies include water-skiing, tennis, golf and carpentry.

LEE SMITH (46) RHP

SMITH, LEE ARTHUR—Born 12-4-57, Jamestown, LA., turns 27, December 4. Bats-R; Throws-R; Ht. 6-6; Wt. 235. Wife's name: Diane. How obtained: Originally signed by Cubs scout Buck O'Neil following the June 1975 free agent draft. He was the Cubs second selection. Major League service: 3 years, 35 days.

1983 SEASON: Picked up where he left off in 1982 and emerged as one of the premier relief specialists in the major leagues. Led the National League in saves with 29 and tied Philadelphia's Al Holland for N.L. honors as The Sporting News' Fireman of the Year. . .Smith had 33 points, with 29 saves and four victories. . .Holland had 25 saves and eight wins. . .a 4-10 record was somewhat deceiving, considering that Smitty allowed just 19 earned runs all season in 66 appearances totaling 103.1 innings. . .29 saves were a career high and was the fourth best total in Cubs history.

Going back to July 8, 1982 (when Smith went to the bullpen for good), Lee has shut out the opposition in 82 of 101 appearances. . .during this span he has pitched 145.1 innings with 44 saves and an ERA of 1.42. . .he has not allowed more than two earned runs in his last 101 appearances. . .had a 1.59 ERA in his last 19 appearances in '83 along with 11 saves. . .his 29 saves came in 32 save situations. . .statistics were mind-boggling: opposition hit .175 against Lee with none out, .202 with one out and .203 with two out. . .with runners in scoring position, opponents hit .202. . .pinch-hitters managed only .209 against him. . .on the road, the opposition hit .182 against Lee; at Wrigley Field it was only slightly better, .205. . .on the season, opponents batted a meager .194 versus Lee. . .Western teams hit a cumulative .150; the Eastern clubs .235. . .five clubs hit under .179 against Smith with Cincinnati batting .080. . .New York had the most success with Smith, batting .282. . .Lee was equally difficult against lefties and righties. . .southpaw swingers hit .194, righthanders .195. . .did not have a bad month all season.

The best batting average off Lee in any one month was .234, in August. . .opposition hit .069 in April, .169 in September/October, .194 in July, .208 in May and .216 in June. . .had two saves in April, three in May, four in June, six in July, seven in August and seven in September. . .had two or more saves against every N.L. club except Montreal (1). . .had five saves against St. Louis and four against both Pittsburgh and Atlanta. . .three saves versus San Francisco. . .did not win a game until June 8 vs. New York (1 inning of relief). . .second win also came against the Mets in New York on June 15 (2.1 innings). . .third win was over Pittsburgh on June 30 (1.2 innings) and his fourth and final triumph was against Los Angeles on July 27 (2 innings). . .lost his last five decisions of the season to finish 4-10. . .recorded four strikeouts on two occasions, on June 5 against Pittsburgh in 1.2 innings and on August 22 against Cincinnati in a 3 inning stint. . .had at least one strikeout in 53 of 66 appearances.

MAJOR LEAGUES: After making five starts because of injuries to Cub starters (from June 16 to July 5), Lee returned to the bullpen on July 8, 1982 and finished in a blaze of glory. From that point on he appeared in 35 games, pitched 42 innings and allowed only four earned runs (0.86 ERA), good for 15 saves and one victory. . .in his last 22 appearances of the '82 season, Lee pitched 26 innings and allowed just one earned run. . .his 17 saves led the staff and ranked him seventh in the N.L. . .it was the most saves by a Cubs reliever besides Bruce Sutter since Bob Locker picked up 18 in 1973. . .he retired an amazing 19 straight batters in eight appearances from August 18 to September 7. . .ERA was 1.87 for 87.1 innings pitched. . .got his first homer—and first M.L. hit—July 5 off Atlanta's Phil Niekro. . .got his second hit in 1983. . .in 1981, he ranked third among Cub pitchers with 40 appearances. . .39 of those appearances were in relief. . .struck out 50 batters in 67 innings. . .in one of his better performances he pitched two innings on May 6 against Houston and faced seven batters, striking out three to gain a 2-1 victory. . .in his first start in the majors on October 4, he pitched six innings against the Phillies allowing only two runs on three hits while striking out seven only to lose 2-1. . .all three 1981 wins came at Wrigley Field. . .earned his first major league victory on September 12, 1980 when the Cubs beat the Mets 10-5 in 15 innings. . .in 22 innings that season he fanned 17 and recorded a 2-0 record with a 2.86 ERA.

IN THE MINORS: Lee had a 4-7 record and 3.70 ERA in 50 games at Wichita (AA) of the American Association prior to his recall in 1980. . .the two previous seasons he pitched at Midland (AA) of the Texas League were his two-year totals included a 17-15 won-loss record. . .spent the two seasons prior to 1978 at Pampano Beach (A) of the Florida State League where he compiled a 14-12 record. . .after signing his first pro contract, Lee reported to Bradenton, FL (Rookie) in the Gulf Coast League. . .finished his first pro season in 1975 with the 10th lowest ERA in the league (2.32) and was named to the All-Star team.

PERSONAL/MISC: Lee is married to the former Diane Sanders and they reside in Castor, LA during the off-season. . .he attended Castor (LA) High School and was graduated in 1975. . .lettered in baseball, basketball and track at Castor High. . .in his junior year he registered an 8-0 record and an 0.14 ERA. . .as a senior, Lee was 7-1 with an 0.95 ERA fanning 124 in just 53 innings while batting .305. . .in his final high school decision he threw a one-hitter but lost on two unearned runs. . .voted Louisiana's Outstanding Player in Class B baseball. . .his senior year he also played basketball for the Louisiana Class B basketball champions and was named to the All-State team. . .participated in the Cubs Caravan in 1981 and again this past winter. . .received the Headline Award (saves) from the Chicago Chapter of the Baseball Writers Association of America at its annual banquet in mid-January. . .enjoys hunting, fishing and racing cars on dirt tracks.

SCORING RULE—PINCH HITTERS

A player shall be considered a pinch hitter only if he enters the game as a substitute batter and then only on his first time at bat which must be before he becomes a fielder. (If the team bats around and a pinch hitter comes up a second time in the inning in which he first appeared, he will not be considered a pinch hitter during that second time up.)

A substitute hitter for a designated hitter is both a pinch hitter and a designated hitter on his first time at bat. On subsequent trips to the plate he is a designated hitter only.

DID YOU KNOW

That former Cubs great Cap Anson is the oldest player to have hit a grand slam in the major leagues. Cap was 42 years and three months old when he hit a bases loaded HR on August 1, 1984. Cap also closed out his career by hitting two home runs in the first game of a doubleheader against St. Louis on October 3, 1897 when he was 45 years and five months old. Only Philadelphia A's pitcher Jack Quinn hit a major league homer at an older age. Quinn was one week shy of his 46th birthday when he connected on June 27, 1930.

NO-HITTER DAY

On August 19, 1965, Jim Maloney of the Cincinnati Reds threw a 10-inning no-hitter against the Cubs in Wrigley Field. The Reds won the game 1-0 on a home run by Leo Cardenas. Four years later, August 19, 1969, Cubs lefty Ken Holtzman threw the first of his two no-hitters when he beat the Atlanta Braves 3-0 at Wrigley Field. All three runs came from a first-inning Ron Santo home run.

DID YOU KNOW...?

Cubs pitcher Jim Lavender defeated the New York Giants' Rube Marquard to end the great Giant hurler's 19-game winning streak, a record that still stands.

On September 29, 1935, Augie Galan played his 154th game of the season for the Cubs without hitting into a double play to set a current major league record.

SAVE RULE

Saves shall be awarded to relief pitchers under the following criteria:

Rule (10:20) tells the official scorer to credit a pitcher with a save when he meets all three of the following conditions: (1) He is the finishing pitcher in a game won by his club; and (2) He is not the winning pitcher; and (3) He qualifies under the following conditions: (a) He enters the game with a lead of no more than three runs and pitches for at least one inning; or (b) He enters the game with the potential tying run either on base, or at bat, or on deck, (that is, the potential tying run is either already on base or is one of the first two batsman he faces); or (c) He pitches effectively for at least three innings.

CUBS HALL OF FAME

The Chicago Cubs organization instituted the formation of the Chicago Cubs Hall of Fame in 1982. The first season, the club selected 17 former Cubs who had previously been inducted into the Baseball Hall of Fame in Cooperstown, NY. Also inducted that season by the Cubs organization were three members of the Wrigley family. The fans voted and selected an additional dozen former Cubs, bringing the first year induction total to 32. The former greats were honored in pre-game ceremonies on Old Timers Day, August 21. Each season fans will select a limited number of former greats to be inducted. Plaques containing a likeness of the inductee and detailing his career accomplishments are on display in the Cubs souvenir gift shop located along the lower concourse in rightfield. Here is a list of those former Cubs in the Chicago Cubs Hall of Fame.

A PAIR OF FIRSTS

On April 20, 1916, the Cubs played their first game in Wrigley Field and defeated the Cincinnati Reds 7-6 in 11 innings.

Thirty years later to the day, the first Cubs game was telecast over WBKD with Joe Wilson at the microphone. Unfortunately for the Cubs, Harry Breechen hurled a six-hitter and the St. Louis Cardinals blanked the Cubs 2-0.

To: The last day of the championship season.

TO A CLUB IN THE OTHER LEAGUE

Without waivers

From: The fifth day after completion of the World Series.
To: The day preceding the last scheduled day of the Winter Meetings at 5 p.m. in the time zone of the city in which the meetings are held.

From: February 15.
To: April 1st at 5 p.m. PCT.

With Waivers

From: The close of the inter-league trading period on the day preceding the last scheduled day of the Winter Meetings.
To: February 14th.

From: The close of the inter-league trading period of April 1st
To: The fourth day after the World Series (Note: This is in effect during the period from the close of the league trading period on June 15th and ending on the last day of the championship season, only if Major League Waivers are in effect.)

GENERAL RULES INFORMATION

Player Limits: Clubs must cut active roster to a maximum of 25 players on opening day...From Sept. 1 to opening day, clubs may carry up to 40 players.

Waivers: Players contracts may be available for purchase by other clubs in reverse order of the League standings at the time waivers expire, if more than 30 days after opening day. Otherwise, in reverse order of the standing at the close of the previous season.

Regulation Game: A regulation game consists of nine innings unless extended because of a tie score or shortened because (1) the home team needs none of its half of the ninth or only part of it; or (2) because the umpire-in-chief calls the game after five completed innings. A regulation game may be less than five innings if the home team is ahead after the first of the fifth, or takes the lead or ties the score while at bat in the fifth.

Tie Games: A regulation game that is called by the umpire-in-chief when both teams have the same number of runs is a tie game. Individual player performances are official and are entered in the records, but the game does not count in the League standings and may be rescheduled at a later date.

ANSON: GRAND OL' MAN

VEDIE HIMSL—LOYALTY OVER THE YEARS

The Cubs director of scouting, Vedie Himsl, will be starting his 32nd season with the organization in 1984. Himsl, over the years, was instrumental in the scouting and signing of such former Cubs as Ernie Banks, Jerry Kindall, George Altman, Lou Johnson and, most recently, Joe Carter and Don Schulze. Since coming to the Cubs from the St. Louis Cardinals organization in 1952, Vedie has served the Cubs as a scout, assistant farm director, farm director, scouting director, pitching coach and was the club's first "coach" during the College of Coaches in 1961.

ROSTER LIMITATIONS

Rosters are limited to 25 players from opening day through August 31 and 40 players from September 1 through conclusion of season. Players in military service do not count against the under control list while on active duty. Upon separation from the service, a player will be reinstated to his club's normal player limits after he has completed a 15-day trial period or has participated in a championship game, whichever comes first.

In Memoriam
CHARLIE GRIMM 1895-1983

During the fall of 1983, baseball lost a loved one. When Charlie Grimm died on November 15, the world lost a man, a friend, a baseball man and more than a few light moments.

When Charlie died in Scottsdale, AZ at the age of 85 he was still associated with the Cubs organization. He spent more than 60 years in baseball as a player, manager, front office executive and announcer. He joined the Philadelphia Athletics in 1916 at the age of 17.

He was a fine fielding first baseman who often caught errant throws barehanded. His major league playing career lasted 20 years. He batted more than .300 five times and had a .290 lifetime average. He played 12 years for the Cubs beginning in 1925. From 1932 until 1936 he doubled as a player-manager. He batted .294 in 1929 when the Cubs won their first pennant in 11 years.

The Cubs won pennants again in 1932, 1935 and 1938 with Charlie playing a major role in each season. The 1935 club put together a 21-game winning streak, the second longest in National League history. Charlie again managed the Cubs in 1945 bringing them their most recent pennant.

Charlie is survived by his wife Marion, a sister and four grandchildren. The Cubs cancer fund has arranged for a tribute to be made in Charlie's name at Northwestern Memorial Hospital.

He was someone who more than one generation was proud to claim as its own. The beauty of the man was never hidden. His laughter filled many stadiums and baseball think sessions. His spirit filled many hearts.

He left an impression on anyone who ever had the opportunity to meet him. And it was always the same smiling impression, as his friends remember:

"Charlie mixed a sense of humor with a serious approach to baseball better than anyone I've ever known." — Jack Brickhouse, Cubs vice president and WGN sportscaster

"I knew Charlie for more than 50 years. He was a great man. He was a great manager of great teams. He was a ballplayer's manager. He enjoyed the game and he never took it too hard. He was one of the most likable men of all-time. He was the catalyst on the great Cubs teams of the 1920s and 1930s." — John Carmichael, former Chicago Daily News sports editor

"I never forgot how Charlie had inspired his players in the 1930s. He was a very inspiring leader, especially when the team was going good." — Jim Gallagher, former Cubs general manager

"Charlie had the correct nickname in 'Jolly Cholly' because he was always that way. He was a very special person." — Vedie Himsl, Cubs director of scouting

"He was a man of enormous good cheer. . .really a terrifc guy. He reminded me of Will Rogers - he never met a man he didn't like."
Jerome Holtzman, longtime Chicago baseball writer for the Chicago Sun-Times and Chicago Tribune

"He was one of the most delightul people I've ever known. He had a fantastic sense of humor. Charlie was always fun to be around. On top of all that he was a terrific baseball man. It was his life. I only wish he had made it to the Hall of Fame." — Howie Roberts, former baseball writer for the Chicago Tribune and Chicago Daily News

"To me he was the original 'Mr. Cub'. Charlie always saw the good in everything. He never seemed to be down." — E.R. "Salty" Saltwell, Cubs vice president

"As much as anyone I ever met in baseball, Charlie realized that the game had to be fun. He put joy into every day and in so doing made it more enjoyable for all of us." — Ray Sons, Chicago Sun-Times sports editor

"Charlie was always a pleasure to be with. He was great fun, had a great sense of humor. He had lots of ups and downs, but whether he was the manager, or a player, or the coach, or vice president, he was always the same. I can't think of anyone who was more enjoyable."
— Bill Veeck, former Major League club owner

"His death was a personal loss to our family and the Cubs. I knew him for 50 years and I have nothing but good memories of him."
— Bill Wrigley, former owner of the Chicago Cubs

DID YOU KNOW

That former Cubs coach P-Nuts Lowrey played third base in the movie "Pride of the Yankees", starring Gary Cooper as Lou Gehrig. Lowrey also appeared in "The Winning Team", with Ronald Reagan as Grover Cleveland Alexander and was the player who hit Reagan between the eyes with a ball as he headed to second base.

Ticket Information and Prices

Reserved seat tickets for all games are available by mail. Just send your order to Director of Ticket Services, Wrigley Field, Chicago, IL, 60613. On the morning of each home game there are several thousand general admission grandstand and bleacher seats for which no reservations are needed.

Reserved tickets can also be purchased in advance at the Wrigley Field Ticket Office (Addison and Clark). Tickets may also be purchased through TICKETMASTER, which will handle all telephone sales. This system will allow customers access to the best seat available at the time of purchase. Tickets can also be charged to your MasterCard or Visa credit card by calling TICKETMASTER at (312) 559-1212. Residents outside Illinois should call 1-800-548-4000. No phone orders will be taken at Wrigley Field ticket office.

A new ticket price structure is in effect this season. There are four box seat classifications; club, $8.00; field, $8.00; terrace, $6.50; and upper deck, $6.50. Terrace reserved seats may be purchased for $5.00. General admission seats, available on the day of the game only, are $3.50 for adults and $2.50 for children. Admission to the bleachers is $3.00 for all and is also only available the day of the game.

BROADCASTERS FOR 1984

LOU BOUDREAU

Known as "Good Kid" to his colleagues and friends, Lou Boudreau will be entering his 26th season in the broadcasting booth at Wrigley Field in 1984. Aside from being one of the most celebrated shortstops in baseball history, the Hall of Famer (induction 1970) is also known for his baseball analysis in the booth.

"Lou is outstanding," says Cubs broadcaster Harry Caray. "He knows the game. Lou is my cup of tea—he's a ballplayer. I'm of the Lou Boudreau vintage and I know who he was and how good he played. And I know how to get him to open up and talk about all those memories up in the booth. The fan loves it."

As he did in 1983, Boudreau will serve as color commentator on WGN radio, working closely with play-by-play man Milo Hamilton. Remembered for his famed Ted Williams shift displayed when he managed the Cleveland Indians, Boudreau first joined the Cubs broadcasting team as a color sidekick for the late Jack Quinlan in 1958. Quinlan was the Cubs play-by-play man on radio in those days. This assignment came on the heels of a two-year managerial stint with the Kansas City Athletics (1955-57). Since 1958, with the exception of a brief managerial tour with the Cubs in 1960 (he and Charlie Grimm switched places), Boudreau has been a fixture in the WGN booth.

Born in Harvey, IL on July 17, 1917, Boudreau joined the Cleveland Indians in 1938. Four seasons later, at the age of 24, he took over as Indians manager, with his popularity reaching national proportions in 1948 when he took the Indians to the World Championship as player-manager. Lou was voted the American League's Most Valuable Player that season, batting .355 with a career-high 18 homers, 106 RBI and 116 runs scored. Boudreau managed the Indians until the 1951 season. His string of nine consecutive years as Cleveland manager still stands as a club record. Lou retired as a player in 1952 after four games with the Boston Red Sox. His lifetime batting average is .295.

Boudreau was also an outstanding basketball talent as a schoolboy, playing for Thornton Township in Harvey, IL where he gained all-state honors in that sport. He also played basketball at the University of Illinois. Later, in 1938-39, Lou played professional ball for Ceisars All-Americans in Hammond, IN. The City of Cleveland honored Boudreau by naming a street bordering Cleveland Stadium Boudreau Blvd.

HARRY CARAY

Harry Caray, one of baseball's best known broadcasters, prefers to direct his broadcasting to "the man in the street" as he puts it. Now in his third season of doing the play-by-play for WGN television, Caray admits he prefers an extemporaneous touch.

"I'm not that much for statistics," says Caray. I'm for human interest. I deal in humor and entertainment and in human nature... the human side of the story."

Caray, who came over to the North Side after an 11-year stint of broadcasting Chicago White Sox games, will again be teamed in the TV booth with color man Steve Stone, the 1980 Cy Young Award winner. Along with his TV work, Caray will do the middle three innings of play-by-play with Lou Boudreau on WGN radio.

Now in his 41st season of broadcasting baseball, the native of St. Louis points with pride to a record "of never having missed a day of work, not even an inning." It all began with the St. Louis Cardinals during the great Stan Musial era, a team he used to watch as a boy growing up in that city. After 25 years of play-by-play work for the Cards, Caray joined the Oakland A's in 1970 for one season before moving over to the White Sox. While in St. Louis he was named recipient of The Sporting News' Announcer of the Year Award on six occasions. Futhermore, Harry has been recognized numerous times for broadcasting honors in Missouri and Illinois.

Caray was raised on the Cardinals. If the transition from the Cardinals to the Oakland organization was an adjustment for Harry, it didn't take him long to realize his enthusiasm wasn't restricted to just the Cardinals.

"As enthused as I had been over watching Stan Musial, Ken Boyer and Enos Slaughter, I found myself getting caught up in the development of the young players on the A's—Jackson, Bando, Hunter and Campaneris. "It made me realize that it was the game of baseball and not necessarily the team which made me feel the way I did about broadcasting baseball."

Caray began his apprenticeship in radio sports before World War II in Joliet, IL. Later he moved to Kalamazoo, MI before joining KMOX radio in St. Louis. He has broadcast boxing, football, basketball and hockey in addition to his baseball assignments.

Born in St. Louis on March 1, 1920, Harry's 7th inning stretch rendition of "Take Me Out To The Ballgame" has become a trademark of his in Chicago since the 1975 season.

MILO HAMILTON

Milo will be starting his eighth season of play-by-play broadcasting for the Cubs in 1984 and is coming off a season which saw him honored by the Commissioner of baseball. Prior to last season's All-Star game in Chicago, Hamilton received a watch commemorating more than 25 years of broadcasting professional baseball.

Hamilton, who began broadcasting Cubs baseball with WIND radio in 1955, will be entering his fifth consecutive season with the ballclub. As he did last season, Milo will handle the play-by-play assignment for WGN radio during the first three and final innings of Cubs games, along with Lou Boudreau. He will work with Steve Stone and do play-by-play on WGN television during the middle three innings.

"I'm really excited about the '84 season and especially pleased to continue my association with the Cubs," said Hamilton, who, by his own count, estimates that he has broadcast well over 5,000 big league games in his career.

Before returning to the Cubs in 1980, Hamilton covered the Pittsburgh Pirates for four seasons, including their championship year in 1979. He has also done play-by-play broadcasting for the Atlanta Braves (1966-75) and Chicago White Sox (1961-65). His first tour as play-by-play man with the Cubs ran from 1955 through 1957.

Hamilton, born September 2, 1927, is considered one of the most thorough broadcasters in the business. His preparation for a ballgame is both tedious and detailed, keeping statistical information on almost every aspect of the game. It was an idea he developed on his own many years ago, "and I keep adding something new to it each season," Milo said in an interview last season. "Some of the information you may use only two or three times a season but you never know when it will become pertinent."

Hamilton plays draftsman each winter, prior to spring training, when he takes a dozen legal pads and prepares various hitting, pitching and other statistical books. Just to prepare a book on home runs for the 1984 season took him more than 10 hours.

In the winter months, Milo is equally busy with a full basketball broadcasting schedule. He recently completed his fourth season of calling the shots of the Chicago Bulls and DePaul University on WGN-TV.

Milo began his broadcasting career on the Armed Forces Radio Network in 1945. The University of Iowa graduate began his professional broadcasting career in 1950. His off-season hobbies include bird hunting and bird dogs. He is also an avid reader and is especially fond of books about Sherlock Holmes.

VINCE LLOYD

The 1984 season will mark the 19th year that Cubs baseball and Vince Lloyd have been together. The longtime play-by-play man for WGN will continue in his dual role as both an announcer and a general manager of the Tribune Company's radio syndication.

Vince and WGN sports editor Jack Rosenberg were named last season as general managers in the new venture. Both played major roles in increasing the number of stations and areas served. The network now serves more than 40 radio outlets.

Along with his network duties, Vince will once again be providing color commentary in the WGN radio booth with Milo Hamilton and Lou Boudreau. Besides providing his insight and commentary on the radio, Vince will host the pre-game Lead-Off Man show on WGN television and the post-game highlights show on WGN radio.

"Personally, I consider it an honor to have worked with some of the country's top play-by-play men. I consider Vince right up there among the best," said Boudreau, who has been broadcasting along side Vince since 1965. "When you work with people who are among the best it makes the production work like a team. His personality and loyalty to WGN go together."

Lloyd, born June 1, 1917, has been honored on numerous occasions as one of the country's top sports broadcasters. His background also includes years of calling Big Ten football games on WGN radio. One of the highlights of Vince's career came in 1961 when he became the first sports announcer to interview a United States President. Vince talked with President John F. Kennedy on WGN's Lead-Off Man show prior to the White Sox opener in Washington, D.C. against the Senators.

In January of 1984, Vince was honored by the Chicago Chapter of the Baseball Writers Association of America as the recipient of the Wendell Smith Award.

STEVE STONE

The 1980 Cy Young Award winner returns for his second season in the WGN television booth, teamed again with Harry Caray. He will handle the TV color commentary. Steve also did Monday night television work for ABC last season after spending part of the 1982 season as a color commentator for ABC baseball telecasts, drawing excellent reviews.

Stone retired from baseball in June of 1982 because of an injury to his right arm. He finished his 11-year major league career with the Baltimore Orioles, where in 1980 he compiled a 25-7 record and 3.23 ERA to win the Cy Young Award in the American League. Steve's career in the big leagues also included three seasons with the Cubs (1974-76) when he turned in records of 8-6, 12-8 and 3-6 before moving over to the White Sox for two seasons. He won 27 games for the Sox against 24 losses. He also played on the South Side in 1973, going 6-11. Stone began his M.L. career with the San Francisco Giants in parts of the 1971 and 1972 seasons. Stone signed with San Francisco following the 1969 January free agent draft. He finished with a 107-93 record in the majors.

Steve was 0-2 against the Cubs lifetime. He was 20-14 in his first two seasons as a Cub pitcher before a sore shoulder limited him to 17 games and 75 innings in 1976. Steve was a batterymate of Thurman Munson at Kent State and was all-Mid American Conference and team captain his junior year. He played two years at Kent State. He attended Brush High School in Cleveland and posted a 0.46 ERA as a junior. He also turned in a 23-1 record for a Cleveland sandlot amateur team. Steve played Little League and American Legion ball and once pitched and won both ends of a Legion doubleheader. Stone began the '71 spring training season as a non-roster player and was a teammate of Willie Mays that year, Mays' final season in SF. In 1980, he pitched in the All-Star Game and tossed three perfect innings as a starter against the N.L.

Stone is a bachelor who was born in Cleveland on July 14, 1947. He opened a restaurant in Scottsdale, AZ in 1981 and another in Lake Tahoe this past winter. The '70 graduate of Kent State is a gourmet cook and wine connoisseur. He has written poetry and has been published in Los Angeles, San Francisco and Chicago newspapers. Stone did TV commentary for WGN on the American League playoffs last fall and also wrote on the playoffs for the Chicago Sun-Times. Steve's hobbies include racquetball, reading and chess.

MESA, AZ—SPRING HOME OF THE CUBS

The Cubs returned to Mesa and HoHoKam Park for a sixth consecutive spring training in 1984 after signing a long-term contract with the HoHoKams, a group of Mesa businessmen, on March 4, 1983. At that time, Cubs Executive Vice President and General Manager Dallas Green announced the new agreement would keep the Cubs in Mesa through 1993.

During the past summer, the HoHoKams continued to make improvements to the Cubs spring training home, certainly one of the finest facilities in all of major league baseball. The most recent improvement was adding trophy cases and memorabilia items to the press room lounge.

Prior to the 1983 spring session, the park's capacity was increased from 5,700 to 6,488. The Cubs set a park attendance record on March 9, 1983 when 6,187 fans watched the Cubs play the Milwaukee Brewers. That record was surpassed on March 13, also against Milwaukee, when 6,225 fans attended. The Cubs drew 66,405 for 15 spring dates in 1983, an average crowd of 4,427.

The Cubs had a 12-16 record during their 1983 spring training session. They were 7-8 at home.

The Cubs returned to Mesa in 1979, re-establishing their spring training headquarters in that city after a 14-year hiatus. Previously, the Cubs had trained at Rendezvous Park but moved to HoHoKam Park in '79, which is located on North Center Street, just north of Brown Road.

HoHoKam Park opened on March 11, 1977 and was previously the spring home of the Oakland A's. The Cubs also have access to three diamonds at nearby Fitch Park. Those diamonds are utilized for the early workouts by Cubs players and by the Cubs minor league teams once the Cubs begin the exhibition season at HoHoKam Park.

The HoHoKams provide assistance to the Cubs in the operating of the park. The group and the park both take their name from an Indian tribe that inhabited the region many years ago. The HoHoKam Indians were first to bring water to the desert area of Mesa, accomplishing this by using a system of canals which can still be traced today.

Mesa is only the fourth training site used by the Cubs covering a period of more than 60 years. They trained for 26 years (1921-1951, excluding the World War II years) at Catalina Island, off the coast of southern California. In 1952, the Cubs moved their spring headquarters to Mesa, training there until 1966 when they moved back to California and Long Beach for one season. Beginning in 1967 the Cubs trained in Scottsdale, Arizona until the spring of 1979 when they returned to Mesa.

Mesa is located just southeast of Scottsdale and Phoenix. It has a population of more than 150,000.
